Worthy Novelty Perennials

We continuously experiment with new varieties of perennials, and have selected the following as the most outstanding. Some of these are being offered for the first time at popular prices, while others are the most worthy of recent introductions. We strongly recommend that you make a planting of these special items. You will find them very valuable additions to your present assortment of perennials.

Pygmy Pyrethrums

This novelty which we introduced a few years ago is a new strain of Pyrethrum which does not grow any higher than 6 inches and is so covered with blooms, especially the second year, that they resemble large red and yellow cushions.

They are a dwarf form of the well known Pyrethrum Roseum and have the same habit of growth and when not in bloom are hard to distinguish from the parent plant, but when in bloom they sell on sight. Blooming time is late May to mid June.

CHRYSANTHEMUM

"GOOD MORNING"

"Good Morning," the 1937 yellow root-sport of "Astrid," possesses all the finest qualities of that well known early hardy chrysanthemum.

Rooted cuttings in May develop into strong, vigorous plants conspicuous among all other chrysanthemums for their beautiful dark green blight and disease-resistant foliage.

The plants with strong branches require no disbudding, and are very floriferous. Bronzy buds unfold by mid-September into a light cream. Flowers in good condition were picked in early November after frosts and heavy snow in October.

Disbudded, "Good Morning" may be used for specimen flowers, which keep more than two weeks. The plants are excellent for landscape use, or may be potted, and can be had in bloom in the house until after Thanksgiving Day. Removed after heavy frost to the greenhouse, "Good Morning" may be forced into bloom for Mother's Day. In the open the plants require no winter protection, and are abundant propagators.
